His mission statement includes the four "L's"...to bring Love, Life, Light, and Laughter into the lives of everyone I come in contact with..."

S. has over 30 years of professional experience in most fields of entertainment!!

For over 20 years S. has been performing, using his talents as a singer, songwriter, playwright, business instructor, motivational speaker, balloon artist, comedian, actor, pianist, and Master of Ceremonies, for companies and producers like Sears, NSA (National Speakers Association), Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey, The Flying Elvi, An Evening At The Improv, Caesar's Palace, NBC, FOX, ABC, and The Comedy Store; to awe audiences like Big Brothers and Sisters of America, The Children's Miracle Network, Japan, Belgium, England, Air Supply, Budweiser, Martin Scorsece and many others.

S. is also a businessman who owns his own entertainment company - S. Capades International, LLC. He is a professional speaker who concentrates, in the business field, on Niche Marketing, The Four Ls (the key to true happiness), and Speaking Your Second Language. His love for networking and hob-nobbing puts him in contact with highly successful, high-integrity individuals and programs that can help others find their Love, Life, Light, and Laughter.

S. was on America's Got Talent, and although he was buzzed off immediately (it's difficult to put your head around what he does in less than 3 minutes), he got many gigs afterwards because of it. S. also has a friend/character that he introduces to audiences every once in a while, One-Eyed Jack (his eye is made out of balloons). One-Eyed Jack can sing, can transport himself, can do comedy, and he knows EVERYTHING.
